CAR UNDERBODY RUST PROTECTION

EVOLO Underbody Rust Protection protects your car from rust. Many car owners underestimate the potential for rust to develop in any vehicle. If you live near the coast, or plan a family outing, at some point your vehicle will be exposed to a combination of environmental factors. These can contribute to rust formulation. Making an informed choice about under car rust protection is important for the protection of your investment.

PROTECT YOUR CAR FROM RUST

EVOLO Rust Protection is an underbody rust protection package. It is a tough shield like coating that adheres to the metal, sealing out salt, moisture and oxygen, all of which contribute to the formation of rust. And, because the coating has thixotropic qualities, it can't be scraped off and won't crack or crumble like traditional bitumen-based underbody rust protection.
